One of the few affordable luxuries that living in SoCal provides is the abundance of (relatively) cheap getaway destinations in close proximity; however, there are only so many times we can do Vegas and Palm Springs, where the gratuitous amounts of UV rays and booze ensure any money we save on travel will inevitably be spent on some serious anti-aging treatments.

For a decidedly different, Broke-Girl-friendly vacay, we'd recommend a little sabbatical in Portland, Oregon. Seriously. A close confidant (and fellow Broke Girl) has been simply smitten since her recent relocation to Portland and, after just a few visits, we too developed a crush on the city. Since round-trip tickets are $200 and the dry(er) summer months are gorgeous, we've decided there's no better time than the present to plan for the perfect Portland getaway.

Flight Time: 2 hours, 15 minutes.

Transport to/from the Airport: Take the Max Line. It's easy and costs around $2 per ticket.

Where To Stay: Downtown/The Pearl District/23rd Street Zone. We like the Hotel DeLuxe. Rooms are around $120 and it's got a cute bar called The Driftwood Room.

BGG EXCLUSIVE: Mention Broke Girl's Guide when you book at 866.986.8085, and Hotel DeLuxe will comp your internet and an appetizer at Gracie's Restaurant!
