STAY

Family or friends searching for a place (besides your home) to call it a night?

136. The charming Bluebird Guesthouse (3517 S.E. Division St.; 503-238-4333; bluebirdguesthouse.com) has seven guest rooms, free Wi-Fi, a laundry, a spacious common area and a communal kitchen, contained within a beautifully restored, turn-of-the-century bungalow. Best of all, it's just a short walk from several restaurants, cafes and shops.

137. The Jupiter Hotel (800 E. Burnside St.; 503-230-9200; jupiterhotel.com) may be retro-trendy, but the lodging is surprisingly affordable, and the restaurant and nightclub next door, Doug Fir, makes for a wildly fun drive-free night.

138. The aptly named Hotel de Luxe (729 S.W. 15th Ave.; 503-219-2094; hoteldeluxeportland.com) possesses a nearly perfect location — near the MAX line and less than a mile from downtown — so it really feels like the Sinatra Hollywood-era getaway it strives to emulate.

139. A Portland landmark, The Heathman Hotel (1001 S.W. Broadway; 503-241-4100; portland.heathmanhotel.com) is the city's premier landmark boutique hotel. Located in the heart of downtown, it's renowned for its classic elegant accommodations and impeccable service.

140. Next to Portland's Pioneer Square and atop the landmark Meier & Frank Building, The Nines (525 S.W. Morrison St.; 503-222-9996; thenines.com) is the ultimate lap of urban travel luxury.

EAT

Show your out-of-state guests a taste of Portland.

141. For doughnut fans, Voodoo Doughnut (22 S.W. Third Ave., 503-241-4704 and 1501 N.E. Davis St., 503-235-2666; voodoodoughnut.com) is an iron-jawed icon of Portland culture; choose from a rotating and regular menu of doughnuts with names like the Dirty Snowball and Grape Ape, and even caffeinated and vegan varieties.
